EPFR 7.2 French and Methodology of teaching French as a Foreign Language

Intensive French

The 4 skills of reading, writing speaking and listening are all developed systematically through activities (individually, in pairs or in a group), games, roleplays and more. This approach integrates both receptive and productive skills practice which can then be re-used in the participants' teaching in their own class.

Methodology of teaching FLE

Classroom techniques demonstrated in practice - feedback and discussion

Classroom activities for ice breaking

Classroom activities to integrate culture in a foreign language class

Techniques to create modern worksheets for the class

Songs & Interculturality; rhythm is an important part of any language. This session shows how songs can be used to improve learners' spoken production. It enables the discovery of French culture through a universal media in a fun way.

Teaching using CLIL; a study of different techniques that can be employed to deliver a subject-based lesson. The teacher has the opportunity to practise these activities at the same time as acquiring the necessary classroom language.

Development of a pedagogical plan

How to evaluate and be evaluated in a fun way without the risk of being misunderstood whilst growing in confidence.

Task-based learning; moving away from teacher-centred lessons and encouraging students to work together, support and help one another are all vital components in modern language teaching today.

Extra fluency practice; additional sessions in small groups. These thematic workshops focus on communication skills and phonetics.

Course Format

One week 30 lessons Intensive French Language which precedes...
 ...One week Methodology of teaching FLE (timetable below)

Course Content and Strategies

The input sessions are a blend of theory and practice in FLE using practical activities based on Communicative Language Teaching (CLT) methodology. Throughout the course, participants are encouraged to reflect on their own practice, consider alternative practices and try out a variety of classroom activities.

The Methodology Course involves small-group learning for foreign teachers of French (or other modern foreign languages) wishing to develop their teaching skills. Input sessions consist of small groups of professionals and are designed to give an insight into current language teaching methodology and techniques. The themed modules/sessions are made up of theoretical components, French language teaching techniques in practice and the elaboration of pedagogical activities that attendees will be able to put into practice on their return to work.
